

Through the Sea - Exodus 13.17-15-21

As One at 10 Intro

Well good morning. Thank you so much for taking time to connect with us here at St Swithin's. We're grateful for your prayers in this really challenging Season as we continue to pray for you too.

We're returning to our on-line worship this week as we break for half-term. At the core of my understanding of what it means to be a Christian is that I am a worshipper of Jesus Christ, everything else is secondary. And of course there are lots of ways to worship, but ultimately I'm called to shape my life around God's heart, His wishes, His will, His presence, His word and Spirit and his direction for my life.

When you find yourself in a tough season, everything requires a bit more effort and a bit more thought and it will go on forever. As we journey through Exodus together, we're at a dramatic point in the narrative. Will God's people ever get free? Will God make a way through the obstacles on the path to freedom? You know, every generation feels like their problems are somehow unique and insurmountable for God to overcome, people are too far away to turn to God, yet every generation also shows us that God makes a way through.

As we gather today, It may feel like you're bashing your head against a brick wall, but take heart God has gone ahead of you and will make a way to a celebration on the other side of the sea!

Let's Pray

God of grace, thank you for your faithfulness to us, in all our weakness and frailty we offer ourselves to you. Lead us and guide us we pray.
